Getting to Know the Saints

This month's Saint, our second Doctor of the Church, was a fourth century monk known by his fellow countrymen as "The Pillar of the Church," "The Doctor of the World," "The Eloquent Mouth," "The Poet of God," "The Prophet of the Syrians," and "Mary's Own Singer."

Poet, teacher, orator and defender of the faith, St. Ephrem is the only Syrian recognized as a Doctor of the Church. He took upon himself the special task of opposing the many false doctrines rampant at his time, always remaining a true and forceful defender of the Catholic Church.

Born in Nisibis, Mesopotamia in 306, he was baptized as a young man and became famous as a teacher in his native city. When the Christian emperor had to cede Nisibis to the Persians, Ephrem, along with many Christians, fled as a refugee to Edessa. He is credited with attracting great glory to the biblical school there. He was ordained a deacon but declined becoming a priest.

St. Ephrem has left us an important theological inheritance. His writings can be divided into four categories: works written in ordinary prose (e.g. biblical commentary); works written in poetic prose; homilies in verse; and lastly, hymns, undoubtedly his most abundant production. St. Ephrem had a great devotion to the humanity of Jesus.

He wrote many hymns against the heretics of his day. He would take the popular songs of the heretical groups and, using their melodies, compose beautiful hymns embodying orthodox doctrine. St. Ephrem became one of the first to introduce song into the Church's public worship as a means of instruction for the faithful. His many hymns have also earned him the title "Harp of the Holy Spirit."

St. Ephrem preferred a simple, austere life, living in a small cave overlooking the City of Edessa. It was here he died in 373, a victim of the disease he contracted while caring for those infected with the plague. St. Ephrem was declared a Doctor of the Church by Pope Benedict XV in October of 1920. His Feast Day is June 9. ~Until Next Month-Alan

 Our ASCS families say it best...See what ASCS families are saying about All Saints Catholic School. "I love being a part of the All Saints Community and I feel honored to teach here and work with these students each day. The Catholic education that is offered at All Saints is like nothing I have ever witnessed. The reason that I love All Saints is because the teachers and staff go above and beyond. They are here because they love the students and they love what our school has to offer. It is a beautiful thing to witness every day, so many people coming together for the good of the students. All Saints is filled with teachers that want each student to know that they are loved, that they are special and unique in their own way and that they can and WILL succeed. It is truly amazing to see how my daughter has grown as a learner, has developed a deeper understanding of her faith, and has formed a stronger relationship with God."
